Into Success - A Three Hands Open Programme

In July 2010 Three Hands will be running an Open Programme in London for a small group of people from a diverse range of organisations. This will be a powerful, real-life one day project that will provide a sample of how Three Hands test and develop key management and leadership skills and provide exposure to community issues, while delivering tangible benefit to an education charity.

THE CHARITY

On this project you will be working with IntoUniversity, a charity that offers academic support to disadvantaged young people in deprived areas of London. IntoUniversity targets children and young people who are most at risk of failing to meet their potential, raising their aspirations and equipping them to make better life choices.

THE PROJECT

Your challenge is to raise the aspirations of a group of 6th formers by equipping them with a toolkit of critical skills, experience and confidence. You will achieve this by addressing some of the key challenges they face, including self-awareness, self promotion and how they communicate with different audiences. During the project you will develop your skills and theirs through a series of workshops, coaching sessions and activities.

THE LEARNING

To succeed in this very challenging project you will need to quickly build effective relationships with people from very different backgrounds. This is a facilitated learning experience with a strong focus on communication, coaching and personal impact – essential management and leadership skills. The programme will be led by an experienced Three Hands facilitator who will help you to develop your own skills in these areas while you tackle the issues faced by the IntoUniversity students.

Programme Details

The programme will run on 8th July in London.

The cost is £475 + VAT with an optional £125 donation to IntoUniversity
